

THE SUPERVISORS MUST CONFIRM

IN THE QUO WARRANTO PROCEEDING TO TEST THE RIGHT OF ONE NEILL TO ACT AS A POLICEMAN, JUDGE PARSONS HELD THAT THOUGH APPOINTED BY THE SHERIFF HE HAD NOT BEEN CONFIRMED BY THE SUPERVISORS, AND NOT A POLICEMAN.

In discussing the case in point, Judge Stanley, who argued it before Judge Parsons, has stated that it was one of quo warranto brought by John Moir against one Neill, who was appointed by the Sheriff to the police force. It was a requirement that he should show by what authority he should act as an officer. The Supervisors claimed the right to appoint and so did the Sheriff. It was the view of the Sheriff and his advisors that under the County Act even the approval of the Supervisors was not necessary, that all that was necessary was for the Sheriff to appoint his own officers and then to be responsible for them. The learned judge apparently has taken the other view.

MYSTERIOUS SEIZURE FROM THE SHERMAN

A LITTLE PACKAGE PURPORTING TO BE MADE OF OLD AMERICAN GREENBACKS TAKEN FROM ONE OF THE TRANSPORT MEN ARRESTED SOME DAYS AGO—AUTHORITIES WILL INVESTIGATE TO FIND OUT WHAT MATERIAL IS.

According to a peculiar little package taken from the transport Sherman, who are now in Oahu prison as possible counterfeiters or witnesses you can buy $25,000 in real old United States paper money for 35 cents, or $50,000 for 60 cents. The little package is a mystery to all who have seen it and it may not have anything to do with the counterfeiting which the authorities are after, but at least it shows its owner to have been interested in paper money material. The package is a small envelope, containing two small rectangular bits of what looks like pasteboard, and bearing on its outside the following advertisement: "This pack contains about $1,020 IN MACERATED BANK NOTES. Made of all denominations ($1 to

Honolulu Pays Salvage On Alameda

CONSIGNEES OF EXPRESS PACKAGES HAVE TO PAY TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT OF VALUE.

People who had express packages on the Alameda are finding out on inquiry at the Wells Fargo office that they have to pay 25 per cent of the value of the packages, in order to get them. The Alameda was wrecked and practically given up for lost, when she was saved by the underwriters, and the 25 per cent is in the nature of salvage. The underwriters will make a big haul by the saving of the vessel, and Honolulu will contribute in many small installments from people who had packages aboard. However, most of them readily come to the conclusion that it is better to get the packages by paying 25 per cent of what they are worth than to lose them entirely.

WITNESS FROM SAN DIEGO IS HERE

CAMP MCKINLEY CORPORAL WHO WAS WANTED AS A WITNESS IN THE COUNTERFEITING CASES ARRIVED ON THE THOMAS—WAS TRANSFERRED FROM SAN DIEGO HERE, IN ORDER TO BE USED AS WITNESS.

Corporal Hitchings arrived here on the transport Thomas, and was at the Judiciary building this morning, under a subpoena for the Federal Grand jury it is supposed. Hitchings is the former Camp McKinley soldier who was wanted for the counterfeiting case being investigated. He had gone away with the coast artillery company which was formerly here, but was wanted as a witness. Cables were sent to San Diego after him, and the authorities had him transferred back to Honolulu. Hitchings was seen at the Judiciary building this morning. He was wearing citizens' clothes. He will probably be held here for the trials of the cases. The jury did not examine any witnesses today but has examined several of the soldier witnesses in the counterfeiting cases.

JUDGE PARSONS'S DECISION

THE DECISION AFFECTING THE RIGHT OF APPOINTMENT BY THE BOARDS OF SUPERVISORS WHICH HAS BEEN LOOKED FOR WITH SO MUCH INTEREST ALL OVER THE TERRITORY—DENIES THE CLAIMS OF THE BOARD IN THIS CASE.

The following is the decision in full rendered by Judge Parsons of Hilo in the mandamus proceeding of Norman K. Lyman against Charles Maguire, Auditor of the County of Hawaii, to compel the latter to issue a warrant for $75 for the salary of Lyman as clerk to the sheriff by appointment of the Board of Supervisors against the objection of the sheriff himself: The Board of Supervisors of the County of Hawaii at a regular meeting of that body held in Hilo, Hawaii, on or about the first day of July, 1905, passed a resolution appointing the Petitioner to the position of clerk of the Sheriff of Hawaii. Claiming authority under this resolution Lyman, who prior to that time had been the clerk of Sheriff Searle, remained in the clerk's office during the month of July, keeping regular office hours during that time and transacting certain routine business of the office. Sheriff Keolanui, who went into office about the first day of July, during the entire time of Lyman's absence.

THE LIFE OF A PARKER RANCH COWBOY

NO SOFT SNAP FOR THE CATTLE MEN ON THE GREAT HAWAII RANCH—THE WITNESS SPENCER TELLS OF DAYS WHICH BEGIN AT FROM MIDNIGHT TO THREE A. M. DURING THE CATTLE DRIVES.

The life of a Parker ranch cowboy is not an easy one, according to the picture of it given in Judge Lindsay's court this morning by William Spencer, one of the many cowboys who have come here to testify in the Parker ranch case. Spencer has been over a lot of the ground covered by other witnesses, criticizing in many respects the management of the ranch, the manner of conducting drives or round-ups and the lack of paddocks and pens where in the opinion of the witnesses such things should be.

Kinney cross examined Spencer this morning, and asked him a lot of questions about how hard the cowboys work and what sort of hours they keep. It appeared that they often got up very soon after bedtime. When things are easy, of course, they may sometimes linger in their luxurious beds, if such they have, until after five in the morning.

"If there is no rush of work," said Spencer in answer to a question, "the boys get down to the Chinese store in Waimanalo a little before six in the morning. But if there is a rush, if they are taking cattle to the beach, they get up to start work at from midnight to three o'clock in the morning."

"At what hour do they rise during the annual drives?"

"Whatever time the luna says,—one, o'clock, two o'clock or three o'clock in the morning."

"Does the luna repeatedly cause the men to get up at one, two and three o'clock?"

"Well, not so very often."

"When the work requires it?"

"Yes."

Kinney questioned the witness about how hard the luna made the men work. He also wanted to know the wisdom of employing Willie, John and Tom Lindsay and Ikua Purdy, the cowboy champion who has already been a witness. Kinney asked if the best cowboy on Oahu would do as well as they in view of their having been raised on the ranch and knowing the country. "Wouldn't any manager be a fool to take the driving of cattle out of the hands of such persons?" asked the attorney.

"He wouldn't be a proper person." The witness also admitted that Ikua and the others were not men who would allow those under them to loaf. He agreed that Tom Lindsay was a man of taciturn disposition, with very little to say.

"Sometimes I have seen him jolly and happy," added the witness.

"In what way?"

"Facing horses and drinking whiskey."

This was at Waimanalo on race days, said Spencer. Generally Lindsay had very little to say. He had been Jarrett's luna before Carter employed him.

Another question put, to which the witness gave a weighty sort of reply was "Do the men work hard?"

"Well," he said, "if the work is hard they do hard work. If it is easy they take it easy."

KUHIO AT HILO

DELEGATE MAKES A SPEECH IN WHICH HE SAYS HE WAS HAMPERED BY CARTER.

HILO, October 12.—There was quite a gathering at Fireman's Hall on Monday night to hear Delegate Kuhio speak on the difficulties he had encountered in his efforts to do for Hawaii what the Territory needs. He said he had been hampered and hampered by the Territorial Executive and his friends and that obstacles had been placed in his way in many instances. He blamed his failure to secure a federal building for Honolulu on the inability of the people there to agree upon a site; his failure to secure the setting apart of a lot here for a federal building he blamed upon the Governor. The delegate advised the people to pull together for without harmony there could be nothing gained.—Hawaii Herald.
